ANOTHER LABOR CRISIS NOW THREATENS GREAT BRITAIN

Inspection Of Troops For Today

By H. M. AYRES.
(Special Correspondence to the Star.)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, May 11, 10 a. m.—Matters ceased abruptly this morning when Colonel Bell gave the order for inspection of the troops. At 7:30, the Fifth Cavalry, composing eleven troops, the band and the supply wagons, lined up for inspection, the men being mounted. At this hour the inspection is still proceeding.

The cavalry presented an imposing sight as they spread across the plateau, the colors flashing in the sun and the band playing a lively march. The First Field Artillery, mounted, with band and supply wagons will be inspected next. At 8:30 they left their camps and proceeded across the plain, taking up formation three-quarters of a mile southwest of the cavalry. The Second Infantry will be inspected after the artillery, and after them, the sanitary troops.

Castle this morning and the descent of some men in search for dead rats, fire was discovered in the cargo of copra stored between the two holds. Efforts were made to stamp out the burning sacks but the flames spread rapidly and in a few moments the hold was a sheet of flames. The men raced for the deck and turned in an alarm to the fire station.

Fairchild On Literacy Test Clause

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—George H. Fairchild of Hawaii has testified before the House Committee on Immigration in reference to the literacy test of the proposed immigration law and why Hawaii should be specifically exempted from it.

Mr. Fairchild said that previous bills had excepted Hawaii, and chiefly on the following grounds of propriety: The necessity of counteracting the Orientals in Hawaii by persons of Caucasian stock. Orientals are now slowly decreasing and agricultural families from Portugal and Spain are taking their places. Eleven thousand Caucasians have been introduced in the last ten years at a cost of $100,000. These are good farming people but the application of a literacy test would bar more of such people from coming.

REPRESENTATIVES OF HAWAII OPPOSE LITERACY TEST

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, May 1.—That Hawaii should be excepted from the educational provisions of the Dillingham immigration bill was strongly urged by Delegate Kalaniana'ole. Secretary McClellan and Senator Fairchild at the recent two-day hearing given them by the House committee on immigration.

Secretary McClellan gave the committee a practical illustration of the hardship such a test would work on Hawaii, declaring its effect in the islands exactly the opposite of that intended to bring about. He called attention to the fact that economic and climatic conditions made it practically impossible to secure immigration from the United States to Hawaii, and that only a liberal interpretation of the immigration laws would enable Hawaii to attract people from other countries.

CONTRACT VOID BECAUSE BIDDERS WERE TOO GAY WITH CONDITIONS

All bids for construction work on the Queen street bulkheads must be rejected, according to a ruling made this morning by First Deputy Attorney General Smith, owing to the fact that the tenders contained the words "whole or nothing," while the specifications called for "whole or part."

New advertisements will be inserted in the paper tomorrow morning calling for bids on the Queen street bulkhead work and tenders will be received up to May 22. At 2 p. m. on that date the contracts will be awarded.

BASEBALL IS REFORMING THE FILIPINOS.

Heinrich Miller of Manila, en route to Europe, says that American baseball is capturing the Filipinos. He says:

"The result of this craze for baseball has been beneficial in the extreme. Gambling and cockfighting are no longer the principal amusements for the young men. The cockpits are patronized only by the men too old to learn baseball.

"Baseball is waking up the natives, too. We find the young men who play baseball are acquiring the American spirit of hustle. They are better workers and are getting ambitious. They can't be loafers and play baseball, and the spirit instilled in them by that fast game is making real men out of them.

"In my opinion baseball may yet solve the labor problem in the islands by building up a race of men who will play the game of life like they play baseball."

MILLER'S FLEET UNDER SEIZURE

Two more of the vessels of Captain Miller's "rotten row" fleet are in the hands of the United States marshal. The Concord was seized by the marshal yesterday, so there are in all three units of the fleet tied up by the notices mailed to their masters.
